

Travel, Expense, and Reimbursement Policy

Document owner	Finance Operations
Effective date	2026-01-01
Review cycle	Annual or after material regulatory/process change
Audience	All employees, contractors, and people managers

Purpose and General Rules

This policy explains which business expenses are reimbursable, what approvals are required, and how employees submit accurate expense reports. Expenses must be reasonable, documented, and directly related to company business.

Employees are expected to use preferred suppliers and company booking tools where available. Personal upgrades, fines, family travel, and expenses lacking business purpose are not reimbursable.

Pre-Approval Requirements

Manager approval is required before incurring expenses above 100 USD. Department head approval is required for expenses above 1,000 USD, international travel, conference sponsorships, and non-standard equipment purchases.

Emergency expenses may be submitted after the fact with an explanation, but repeated late approvals may result in reimbursement delay.

Expense type	Approval threshold	Approver
General business expense	Above 100 USD	Manager
Large purchase	Above 1,000 USD	Department head
International travel	Any amount	Manager and department head

Travel Booking

Air travel should be booked in economy class for flights under six hours. Premium economy may be approved for flights over six hours. Business class requires executive approval unless mandated by medical accommodation or local policy.

Hotels should be booked within the city rate cap unless event pricing, safety, or availability requires an exception. Employees should choose practical transportation options and avoid luxury services.

Meals and Incidentals

Meal reimbursement should be reasonable for the location and business context. Alcohol is reimbursable only when part of an approved customer or team event and must comply with local law.

Per diem arrangements, where used, replace individual meal reimbursement unless Finance approves an exception.

Receipts and Submission Timing

Receipts are required for expenses above 25 USD and for all lodging, airfare, conference registration, and customer entertainment. Credit card statements alone are not sufficient unless the original receipt is unavailable and an explanation is provided.

Expense reports should be submitted within 30 calendar days of the transaction or trip completion. Late submissions may require additional approval.

Non-Reimbursable Expenses

Non-reimbursable expenses include traffic fines, personal entertainment, minibar charges, commuting costs, lost personal items, unauthorized software, and expenses for family members or companions.

Finance may reject expenses that are excessive, inadequately documented, outside policy, or inconsistent with company values.
